South Dublin County Libraries are introducing an exciting new volunteering programme which will provide opportunities for people to volunteer in a variety of roles within the library service.

Why Volunteer?

People have many different reasons for wanting to volunteer. Libraries are at the heart of the community and volunteering can be an enormously fulfilling way of making a meaningful contribution to the community. By giving some of your time, you can help make a difference to the thousands of people who use our services everyday.

How Can I Help?

At the moment we are looking for people who would like to give some time to the following –

- Basic computer skills tutor
- Languages Skills Tutor (Irish, Spanish, German, French, Italian, English as a Foreign Language)
- Panel of volunteers for short-term assignments (variety of skills)

What does it involve?

Depending on the area you would like to work in, time commitments may vary. These are outlined in the position descriptions for each post.

For those wishing to be included on the short-term panel, we will match your skills up to the tasks needed for each assignment.

Where Will I Work?

South Dublin County Libraries have a network of branches located in Tallaght, Ballyroan, Lucan, Clondalkin and Castletymon.

Volunteer vacancies arise in each branch according to need. You may have a preference for a particular location which we will try to accommodate.

Will I Receive Support?

Yes. You will be assigned a contact person at the location from which you will be working. You will liaise with your contact for anything you need relating to your work.

Are there any restrictions to applying to become a volunteer?

You must be over 18 years of age and be able to commit one year to the project.

How Do I Apply?

Please contact Ian Stobbart at Library Headquarters for more information and an application form.
